

SHORT TERM CONSTRUCTION MISSION TRIP

February 15—23, 2008

If you're a guy who knows how to work with his hands, and has some construction skills, this is your trip!

We promise hot days and hard work. Plus, balmy nights and great Honduran food.

Led by Project Teamwork staff, you'll work side by side with the men of the Village, to build a much needed Ministry & Business Center at the ZA Village in Santiago, Honduras. There is limited space, so contact Project Teamwork, to hold your place on the team @ 754-214-5449.

As part of the men's Holy Sweat Team, you will be working on a cement-block building in the ZA Village in Santiago, Honduras, to be a Ministry and Business Center. It will be used for training, Bible studies, children's programs, and a variety of ministries by Project TeamWork, Youth for Christ and the Village church.

The large room in this new Center will also be used during the week for a village business; a local industry that the women in the village can use to earn extra income. A small sleeping room and bathroom will be included to house a visiting minister, teacher, or musician.

The 60 families that live in ZA were all victims of Hurricane Mitch in 1999. The Village was designed and built by Project TeamWork staff and volunteers. Each family was interviewed and had to meet certain qualifications to move into a Village house. All the homes have clean running water from a well at the top of Village - and electricity. Three years after completion, the mayor of Santiago commissioned a public elementary school to be built there. They named it The Project TeamWork Elementary School, where the children (in uniform) now proudly attend school at the top of the hill.

Project TeamWork volunteer teams have been working and ministering to the people of this Village for the past several years, and we plan on continuing, as long as God provides resources and volunteers!

Even though the Holy Sweat Trip is for men only – there is an adjacent women's team going at the same time. The Mary & Martha's Excellent Adventure Team will be working to paint and decorate some of the homes, as well as meeting with the Village women for a daily seminar on parenting. They'll also be providing a special children's program for the kids in the Village.

Both teams have limited space, so get in touch with us soon! 754-214-5449.

We need a few good men! Are you one of them? Call us now - and sign up for Holy Sweat!
